

FIRST BATTLE LOST IN HOUSE

Gardner Could Not Muster
Enough Republican Votes to Change Rules.

ONLY TWENTY CAME OVER

RULING OF SPEAKER CANNON
SUSTAINED BY 13 MAJORITY.

Washington, Dec. 15.—The hopes of the so-called insurgents in the house of representatives for a revision of the rules of that body were dissipated, for the time being at least, when Mr. Gardner of Massachusetts today failed to obtain the adoption of an amended resolution calling for the appointment of a committee of eight to consider the subject and report to congress what the majority of the house voted to take away from the committee on foreign affairs consideration of the resolution which in its original form simply called for information from the secretary of state regarding what the British house of commons had done in that regard. A ruling by the speaker that the amendment of Mr. Gardner changed the character of the resolution in such a way as to not make it privileged was sustained and the resolution then was laid on the table.

After passing some bills relating to the District of Columbia, the remainder of the day was taken up with the bill to revise the penal laws of the United States, which was considered at length during the last session.

Mr. Gardner's Motion Prevailed.

At the outset of the proceedings the roll was called, on a motion by Mr. Gardner (Republican, Massachusetts), to discharge the committee on foreign affairs from further consideration of the resolution calling on the secretary of state for a statement as to whether he has in his possession information as to whether or not the British house of commons has appointed a committee to report on the advisability of changing its rules, and that the resolution be considered by the house.

The motion of Mr. Gardner prevailed—16 to 13—and thereupon he offered an amendment eliminating all reference to the demand on the secretary of state for information and leaving in the resolution simply provision for the appointment of eight members to report on the question of revising the rules.

Point of Order Raised.

Messrs. Payne (New York) and Dalzell (Pennsylvania) were quickly on their feet with points of order, both insisting that as a portion of the resolution would be stricken out, the resolution no longer was privileged. Against that contention Mr. Gardner vigorously arranged himself, and he cited several precedents to support his argument. With equal vigor Mr. Fitzgerald (Democrat, New York) upheld the contention of Mr. Gardner.

In an elaborate opinion, the speaker sustained Messrs. Dalzell and Payne, holding that the character of the resolution had been changed in such a way as to render it non-privileged.

Appeal Tabled.

Mr. Gardner promptly appealed, but, alert to the importance of the proposition, Mr. Payne moved to lay the appeal on the table, and on that motion a roll call was forced.

By a vote of yeas 119, nays 136, present four, the speaker was sustained. Twenty Republican voted against the speaker as follows: Boyd (Neb.), Campbell (Kan.), Caulfield (Mo.), Cooper (Tenn.), Davis (Minn.), Ellis (Mo.), Foster (N. J.), Gardner (Mass.), Green (N. D.), Howard (O.), Hubbard (W. Va.), Lindberg (Minn.), McKinley (Cal.), Madison (Kan.), Nelson (Minn.), Nye (Minn.), Pearce (Md.), Pollard (Neb.), Sturgis (W. Va.), Volstead (Minn.).

The resolution then, on motion of Mr. Gardner, after he had further attacked the rules of the house, was laid on the table—137 to 42—which has the effect of killing the whole proposition.

GLASMAN Nears Finish

Postmaster Says He Is Out of Politics and Exhibits Clearance Card.

"I am now out of politics," was the statement of William Glasman, the Herald yesterday. At the same time Glasman exhibited a copy of his resignation which he sent to the first assistant postmaster general at Washington, and in which he states he would like to be released by the end of the present quarter. Dec. 31. Mr. Glasman also displayed a letter from E. P. Bushnell, acting first assistant postmaster general, addressed to Congressmen, in which Mr. Bushnell states that the postoffice department knows of no objections to the acceptance of the resignation of Glasman, and that the department files show that the Ogden office has been satisfactorily conducted under his management.

Mr. Glasman, who recently he wrote Congressman Howell to ascertain what his record was with the postoffice department and that the letter from Mr. Bushnell was the result. In any event Glasman insists that he is through with politics and that he will in the future devote his time to his business.

The race for the postoffice appointment is going on merrily. W. C. Howell, the congressman's nephew, still appears to have the lead over the other aspirants and it is expected by many that his appointment will be announced within the next few days. City Judge J. D. Murphy, former City Treasurer R. A. Moyes and County Clerk O. A. Madson are the other prominent aspirants.

PRICE WANTS TO BE SHOWN.

Man Who Got $2,410 in Newspaper Has Best of Argument.

Notwithstanding the reports sent from Portland to the effect that the money wrapped in a newspaper received through the mails by Charles Price of Five Points, a few days ago, was a portion of a stolen sum from a bank in that city, the local authorities are skeptical about the Portland people being so glibly. The Portland people are nothing further has developed than the fact that among the money taken from the Portland institution were bills of the denomination of one hundred dollars. It is held that this in itself is not sufficient to prove that this particular currency was taken from the Portland bank. While Mr. Price states he is willing to give up the money if it can be proven whence it came, he is not willing to let go of it unless the proof is complete.

ACCOUNTS IN GOOD SHAPE.

Forestry Office Is Inspected by Government Agent.

Because of the fact that everything at the local forestry office is in such good shape, Fiscal Agent H. E. Cramer, who arrived in Ogden Monday to inspect the accounts, was enabled to leave for Missoula, Mont., yesterday afternoon. He had anticipated that he would be required to remain in Ogden a greater length of time.

In an interview Mr. Cramer said: "I am delighted with the state of affairs I find here. They are much better than I had reason to expect, and the work here due to the entire personnel of the Ogden district. The volume of business already handled in this office is surprising. More than 500 accounts have been settled in the past four days by Local Fiscal Agent Cramer, and a little more than $31,000 has been distributed."

IS NOW HELD FOR ROBBERY.

Charge Against Ralph Dean Is Made More Serious the Second Time.

Ralph Dean, charged with having held up the European hotel some weeks ago, was yesterday arraigned in police court on a charge of robbery and held on $500 bail for the district court. Dean was originally charged with attempted robbery, and when the case came up in the district court, his attorney succeeded in having the case sent back on technical grounds. The county attorney then took the case up in the city court, where he charged of robbery, a more serious crime, and it was on this that Dean was bound over yesterday.

Beet Growers Paid.

The last of this season's payments for the sugar beet growers and employees of the Amalgamated Beet Company was made yesterday, when $20,000 was paid out. Of this amount $12,000 was for labor at the Ogden factory.

More than 1,000 individuals called at the sugar company offices yesterday and settled their accounts, which, on a statistical basis of five persons to a family, would show that at least 5,000 people were affected by the payments of yesterday, which funds accrued from the sugar beet industry in the counties of Weber, Box Elder and Davis.

Former Desk Sergeant H. T. Snyder, now in the hotel business in Salt Lake, was in Ogden yesterday.

The married folks of the Fifth ward will give a dance this evening. All of the old-time dances will be on the program.

DUTCH WARSHIP MAKES CAPTURE

Little Coast Guard Ship Belonging to Venezuela Taken by the Van Heemskerck.

GREAT JOY AT WILLEMSTAD

UNITED STATES NOT TO INTERFERE IN TROUBLE.

Willemstad, Dec. 15.—The Dutch battleship Jacob Van Heemskerck arrived in the harbor at 8 o'clock this morning towing as a prize the Venezuelan coast guard vessel "23 De Mayo."

Word of the capture had already been received here and a great throng of people lined the quays to witness the entrance of the Dutch battleship conducting her capture within the harbor.

The flag of the Netherlands had been hoisted to the peak of the captured Venezuelan coast guard ship, and astern the Dutch flag floated the Venezuelan colors. Although the Venezuelan flag was still shown, it was in minor contrast to the Dutch pennant, flying from mainmast and foremast, both of the warship and its prize.

Crew Sent Ashore.

The capture of the "23 De Mayo" was effected Dec. 13 at a point a little north of Cumana, on the Gulf of Curacao. The battleship Jacob Van Heemskerck observed the "23 De Mayo" in the offing took possession of her and sent a prize crew aboard. The Venezuelan crew had been in charge of the "23 De Mayo" was sent ashore in the small boats of the captured ship. The Van Heemskerck then proceeded back to this port, securing her prize. The money wrapped in a newspaper stolen from a bank in that city, the local authorities are skeptical about the Portland people being so glibly. The Portland people are nothing further has developed than the fact that among the money taken from the Portland institution were bills of the denomination of one hundred dollars. It is held that this in itself is not sufficient to prove that this particular currency was taken from the Portland bank. While Mr. Price states he is willing to give up the money if it can be proven whence it came, he is not willing to let go of it unless the proof is complete.

Former American Steamer.

The "23 De Mayo" formerly was an American steamer called the Alliance. She belonged to a Mr. Smith, who was at one time American consul here. She was captured by Venezuela in 1897 while in distress off Maracaibo, on the ground that she was engaged in running contraband to the Venezuela coast. Mr. Smith made a claim against the Venezuelan government for the vessel, and his demand was reduced to $2,300 by the mixed commission that adjudicated various matters of this kind.

After the Margarita.

The Dutch cruiser Gelderland left here yesterday for the Venezuelan coast. She had on board a seaman thoroughly acquainted with the small bays and inlets along the Venezuelan shores. She is out after the Venezuelan torpedo boat Margarita, a steel vessel of ninety-seven tons and armed with three-pounders and two torpedo tubes. The vessel is supposed to be at the island of Margarita.

The Jacob Van Heemskerck will leave here tomorrow to resume her patrol service on the coast.

THE "23 DE MAYO," WHILE CLASSED AS A COAST GUARD VESSEL, IS A UNIT OF THE VENEZUELAN NAVY, BUT HER SIZE AND ARMAMENT ARE INSIGNIFICANT. SHE IS OF 130 TONS AND IS ARMED WITH ONE MACHINE GUN.

MERELY LOOKING ON.

United States Has an Understanding With Holland.

Washington, Dec. 15.—The existence of what amounts practically to a state of war between Holland and Venezuela, the absence for the first time in many years in an acute crisis of this kind of American warships from their proper sphere of influence, and the profession of the state department officials of their ignorance of the intentions of Holland constitute a most curious and interesting international situation. The fact that America has a quarrel of her own with Venezuela and has determined diplomatic relations with that country, gives rise to doubts as to the accuracy of the statement that this government is not interested in what is going on off the coast of Venezuela. Indeed, there is reason to believe that while official records may fail to show the existence of any formal agreement between America and the Netherlands, the government of the latter country is proceeding with the tacit consent of America to bring to an end the chaotic conditions that have prevailed in an international sense in Venezuela for the past two years.

As Construed by Roosevelt.

So long as the Dutch ships act strictly within the limits of the Monroe doctrine, as construed in the annual message to congress of President Roosevelt of last year; so long as no attempt is made to seize Venezuelan territory for permanent occupation; so long as the Dutch warship capitalizes their activities to the seizure of Venezuelan ships, the blockade of ports and the attempt to redress the affront to Holland's honor, there probably will be no interference on the part of the United States government.

Of course, it is inconceivable that this government has not already received some assurance from Holland on this point, but it is probably the case that these have not been reduced to writing, but are simply matters of mutual understanding.

Agreement With United States.

The experience of the allied powers who operated against Venezuela several years ago would seem to have indicated to Holland the necessity of coming to some understanding with the United States before proceeding to the point of actual hostilities, which, after all, is the situation on the Venezuela coast, notwithstanding diplomatic disclaimers.

Logically, the next step will be the declaration of a blockade, and of this declaration notice must be given by Holland to all nations in order to prevent the lodgment of claims for unwarrantable injury inflicted upon neutral commerce.

Meanwhile the action of the Dutch cruisers in seizing Venezuelan ships is calculated to have a depressing effect upon the trade of Venezuela and to discourage prospective shipments of merchandise in the present unsettled conditions.

ARCHBOLD ONCE MORE A WITNESS

Vice President of the Standard Oil Company Questioned by Counsel for the Company.

New York, Dec. 15.—John D. Archbold, vice president and active head of the Standard Oil company, again was a witness in the government suit for the dissolution of that corporation when the hearing was resumed today.

Mr. Archbold said that of the 1,062 miles of pipe line existing in 1882 the Standard had built 1,042 miles and purchased the remainder.

Witness testified that the amount of Russian oil exported from that country to European markets was 976,933 barrels in 1880, and that it more or less increased, steadily until it amounted to 10,500,000 barrels in 1893. He added that the supply of oil in this country was steadily decreasing, while it was steadily increasing in Russia.

Mr. Archbold also said that since 1878 the Standard Oil has owned stock in the Waters-Pierce company. A. P. Pierce or his immediate family have always managed the Waters-Pierce company's affairs.

Books Turned Over.

Mr. Rosenthal, for the Standard, informed the federal lawyers that Mr. Archbold, as requested, made a search for books showing the transfers of stock interests of the companies interested in the trust agreement of 1889, and that such records as had been found were at the disposal of the government. Taking up these records one by one, Mr. Rosenthal read the records showing the ownership of stock at various periods.

These records showed that H. H. Rogers made an advance in the Standard Oil company through the firm of C. M. Pratt & Co., and that Oliver H. Payne was introduced into the inner circle of Standard Oil in 1870 by the American Lubricating company.

Thomas Walsh, builder; Henry Hecker, shipping clerk; Samuel W. Johnson, supply dealer; John Benham, stable man; Frederick Lee Richmond, cashier; Alexander J. Jarden, plumber; Hugh McCullagh, milk dealer; Louis New, carpenter; William McLane, stage mechanic; Patrick McGee, retired farmer; Henry Boenig, foreman.

Mr. Kellogg said he desired to place in evidence the J. W. Barnsdale company's records, which were the basis of the mysterious $7,500,000 loan made to Mr. Barnsdale by the Standard Oil company with the stock in the various Barnsdale companies as collateral.

FIRE AT MINA, NEV.

Several Business Buildings on Main Street Burned—Loss $100,000.

Reno, Nev., Dec. 15.—A special to the Gazette from Mina, Nev., says a fire at 12:30 o'clock this morning that started in the rear of the Davis hotel, in the center of the main business block, destroyed the entire block, excepting the Mina hotel, located on the corner, which was saved after a fight of three hours. The South-east corner of the block, where the water tank was placed in service and rendered all the help possible. The Davis hotel, owned by Thomas Pepper, the Mina meat market, Mina Mercantile company, the J. W. Dougherty lodging house and a vacant two-story building owned by M. C. Schaefer, all were destroyed. The business loss is estimated at $100,000. Rebuilding will be begun at once. The cause of the fire has not yet been determined.

CASTRO IN BERLIN.

Physician Has Not Decided Whether an Operation Will Be Necessary.

Berlin, Dec. 15.—President Castro of Venezuela, who arrived last night from Paris, called this morning on Chancellor von Buolow and Foreign Secretary von Schulerberg, and was received by the secretary later in the day sent Councillor Goetsch, who acted on the German indemnity claims. The foreign secretary returned the call and inquired concerning President Castro's health.

The local newspapers today publish various accounts of the luxurious living of President Castro and party at their hotel in this city.

Dr. Israel made a physical examination of President Castro this evening. This occupied an hour and it is understood no decision was reached as to whether an operation was necessary. Probably a week will elapse before this is decided.

The members of Castro's suite profess to have no concern regarding the seizure of Venezuelan ships by the Dutch warships, and they say that reports of outbreaks are of too frequent occurrence to cause alarm.

REMARKABLE WRECKING.

Compressed Air Aids in Salvage of a Valuable Steamship.

(Technical World.)
Experience gained in the tunnels of New York has been put to use by two young engineers to achieve one of the most remarkable feats in the annals of wrecking last April. The cargo steamer, the steamship Mount Temple, valued at $500,000, at an outlay of only $12,000, after it had been abandoned as hopelessly lost. Indeed, after the vessel had been placed in dry dock it was found to be so fearfully battered and torn that the Mount Temple, as estimated at more than half the value of the ship, so the owners wanted it condemned. The feat called for daring as well as ingenuity, for "there was nothing between us and England," as one of the men on the job expressed it, which was his way of saying that the wreck was exposed to the full fury of the Atlantic.

At first glance there would seem to be no connection between wrecking and tunnel building, yet it was the expert use of the one thing that made the digging of the tunnels under the Hudson and East river possible that floated the Mount Temple, and that one thing was compressed air. The achievement is all the more interesting because it was the second time the same thing was done. The Mount Temple means after all the expedients known in the salvage business had been tried in vain.

TWELVE MEN IN JURY BOX

Trial of Thornton J. Hains Will Now Proceed—Prosecution Will Introduce Novel Feature.

Flushing, N. Y., Dec. 15.—A jury of twelve men has been selected to try Thornton J. Hains, a story writer, as a principal in the killing of William E. Annis, a publisher, who was shot to death by Captain Peter Main, Jr., at the Bay-side Yacht club last summer. One hundred and seventeen talesmen were examined before the jury box was filled.

The prosecution's case will be presented by District Attorney Darrin and it is expected that the examination of witnesses on both sides will consume at least two or three days.

A feature of the trial will be a tank of water and a model of the boat and catboats in miniature representative of the scene of the shooting that will be placed on a table in front of the witness. From manikins representing the principals of the affair will be moved about in this miniature theatre to dramatize actions and positions taken in the tragedy by Hains and witnesses.

The jury, members of which will be permitted to return to their homes at the conclusion of each day's trial, is made up as follows: William Hill, foreman; Thomas Walsh, builder; Henry Hecker, shipping clerk; Samuel W. Johnson, supply dealer; John Benham, stable man; Frederick Lee Richmond, cashier; Alexander J. Jarden, plumber; Hugh McCullagh, milk dealer; Louis New, carpenter; William McLane, stage mechanic; Patrick McGee, retired farmer; Henry Boenig, foreman.
